Timely installation, outstanding performance

When you're installing a new HVAC system, you'll seldom find that "off-the-shelf" parts fit precisely. That can mean slower project completion now and reduced operating efficiency later. To avoid these problems, Walker-J-Walker maintains a fully computerized fabrication facility. There, our experts manufacture tailor-made components and assemblies that fit your needs exactly. So you get trouble-free installation, faster construction times, outstanding performance and lower costs.

More uptime, less product loss

Walker-J-Walker's refrigeration experts calibrate, install and maintain a broad array of brand-name medium- and low-temperature refrigeration systems. Furthermore, when a problem occurs, our knowledgeable service technicians are ready to respond 24/7/365. For you, that means dependable, refrigeration systems that operate at consistently peak performance levels, minimizing downtime and maximizing peace of mind.

Optimized operation, more efficient facility management

Walker-J-Walker's planned maintenance programs enable more efficient system management and maintenance. After each scheduled inspection, you'll receive a report describing your equipment's performance and recommending ways to improve it. Furthermore, you'll benefit from preferred labor rates, faster response times, and a dedicated account representative who can help you satisfy all your mechanical system requirements. It's a full package of services that can improve operating effectiveness, lower energy consumption, enable longer system life and increase profitability.

What can we do for you?

EMCOR Services Walker-J-Walker is the right firm to call when you want innovative problem-solving expertise and single-source solutions that can help keep your facility consistently comfortable, productive and energy efficient.
